1. Aims

Today's children and young people are growing up in an increasingly complex world and living their lives seamlessly on and offline. This presents many positive and exciting opportunities, but also challenges and risks. In this environment, children and young people need to know how to be safe and healthy, and how to manage their academic, personal and social lives in a positive way.

Students in Year 4 to Year 6 at Chetham's, will study the key building blocks of healthy, respectful relationships, focusing on family and friendships, in all contexts, including online. This will sit alongside the essential understanding of how to be healthy. In Years 7 to Year 11, teaching will build on the knowledge acquired at primary and develop further, pupils' understanding of health, with an increased focus on risk areas such as drugs and alcohol, as well as introducing knowledge about intimate relationships and sex.

Teaching about mental wellbeing is central to these subjects. We know that children and young people are increasingly experiencing challenges, and that young people are at particular risk of feeling lonely. The subject content will give them the knowledge and capability to take care of themselves and receive support if problems arise.

Our RSHE policy and practice follows the guidance from KCSIE 2024 in being part of a whole-school preventative education strategy which includes timetabled evidence-based RSHE lessons as well as reinforcement throughout the school curriculum.

2. Statutory Requirements

The Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education and Health Education (England) Regulations 2019, made under sections 34 and 35 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017, make Relationships Education compulsory for all pupils receiving primary education and Relationships and Sex Education (RSHE) compulsory for all pupils receiving secondary education. They also make Health Education compulsory in all schools except independent schools, where Personal, Social, Health and Economic Education (PSHE) continues to be compulsory (as set out in the Education (Independent School Standards) Regulations 2014).

UN Convention on the Rights of the Child (1989): Every child has the right to the best possible health, and education on health and wellbeing so the child can stay healthy.

When delivering the RSHE curriculum at Chetham's, teaching will reflect the law (including the Equality Act 2010) as it applies to relationships, so that young people clearly understand what the law allows and does not allow, and the wider legal implications of decisions they may make.

Under the provisions of the Equality Act, schools must not unlawfully discriminate against pupils because of their age, sex, race, disability, religion or belief, gender reassignment, pregnancy or maternity, marriage or civil partnership, or sexual orientation (collectively known as the protected characteristics). Schools must also make reasonable adjustments to alleviate disadvantage and be mindful of the SEND Code of Practice when planning for these subjects.

RSHE must be accessible for all pupils. This is particularly important when planning teaching for pupils with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND). When delivering the RSHE curriculum at Chetham's, the needs of SEND pupils will be considered and where appropriate content will be age differentiated or tailored to meet the needs of pupils at different developmental stages. The SEND code of practice states that it is important that SEND pupils are prepared for adulthood outcomes, for example those with Social, Emotional and Mental Health needs or learning disabilities, or where the nature of their SEND makes them more vulnerable to exploitation or bullying. As such, Chetham's will provide a sensitively delivered, age-appropriate and developmentally appropriate RSHE programme to all its SEND pupils.

3. Policy Development

The School's RSHE Policy has been developed through the following procedures:

1. Initial Review – the Head of Humanities, the Humanities team and the Junior school teachers have reviewed all the relevant information, including national and local guidance.
2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations via the schools HR Officer.
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents have been consulted via an online survey
4. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSHE through an electronic survey, and discussion at the Student Forum.
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with the Safeguarding Commission

4. Definition

RSHE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

The teaching of RSHE involves a combination of sharing information with students and exploring issues and values.

RSHE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 (Primary year groups) and Appendix 2 (Secondary year groups) but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, considering the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner, so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

We comply with the recommendations laid out in the PSHE Association's Programme of Study for Key Stages 2, 3 and 4, although FGM is only covered in KS4.

6. Delivery of RSHE

Relationships and Health education is taught within the Junior School (Years 4-6) – see Appendix 1 for content and delivery.

Relationships Education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Being safe

In Years 7-12 RSHE is delivered through the PSHE, IT, PE and the Science curriculum. Aspects of it are also covered in School Section assemblies, whole-school assemblies, Tutor groups, Visiting Speakers, and other academic subjects (see appendices).

RSHE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds including:

- Families
- Respectful relationships, including friendships
- Online and media
- Being safe
- Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

For more information about our RSHE curriculum in years 7-11, see Appendix 2.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBTQ+ parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents / carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

7. Roles And Responsibilities

7.1 The Governing Body

The Governing Body has delegated the approval of this policy to the school's Safeguarding Committee.

7.2 The Joint Principal (NS)

The Joint Principal is responsible for ensuring that RSHE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw students from non-statutory/ non-science components of RSHE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

PSHE Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSHE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSHE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory / non-science components of RSHE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSHE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSHE are encouraged to discuss this with the Joint Principal.

At Primary school level, RSHE is taught by the Junior school teachers. At Secondary level, RSHE is mainly delivered through the PSHE curriculum by the Humanities and Modern Foreign Languages Departments, in conjunction with the IT, PE and Science Departments.

7.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSHE and, when discussing issues related to RSHE, treat others with respect and sensitivity

8. Parents' Right to Withdraw

At Primary school level (Years 4-6) and Secondary school level (years 7-11), parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Sex education is not a part of the Primary school RSHE curriculum at Chetham's other than the statutory content for RSHE required as part of the National Curriculum for Science (detailed below):

- describe the changes as humans develop to old age
- describe the life process of reproduction in some plants and animals
- recognise that living things produce offspring of the same kind, but normally offspring vary and are not identical to their parents

At Secondary School level (Years 7-11), parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory/non-science components of sex education within RSHE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will arrange this. The statutory sex education that all Secondary school pupils must receive is flagged as statutory content in Appendix 2, p18.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the Joint Principal (NS).

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The Joint Principal (NS) may discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

9. Training

PSHE Staff are trained in the delivery of RSHE as part of their induction and it is included as part of continuing professional development. Examples include: Stonewall; Manchester Healthy Schools; The Big Debate Macclesfield; First Aid training.

The Joint Principal (NS), Lead Nurse, Designated Safeguarding Lead and Healthy Schools Co-ordinator will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSHE.

10. Monitoring Arrangements

The delivery of RSHE is monitored by the Joint Principal (NS), Assistant Principal (JH), Head of PSHE and Head of Humanities through learning walks, student fora, and surveys. In addition, to ensure the content and teaching is effective, the delivery will be assessed and evaluated in the classroom and department meetings.

This policy will be reviewed annually by the Head of PSHE and Head of Humanities. At every review, the policy will be scrutinised by the Safeguarding Committee

11. Relationship with other Policies, Procedures and Curriculum Areas

- PSHE – RSHE sits within the PSHE curriculum.
- Promoting Good Behaviour – RSHE is linked to the school's broader policy on anti-bullying and the promotion of tolerance and respect for the protected characteristics of the Equality Act.
- Child Protection – if any disclosure occurs during an RSHE lesson or concerns are raised, teachers will follow the school's procedure for Child Protection / Safeguarding
- Confidentiality – Children have rights under the Children's Act 1989 and thus can expect to be treated sensitively regarding seeking information and advice. However, staff should not give guarantees of confidentiality where the safety and welfare of a child is at risk
- External Visitors – where external agencies are involved in the delivery of RSHE, the school's RSHE policy will be made available to them.
