Frequently Asked Questions

What happens when we are not rehearsing or performing?

Chetham's is a great place to meet some of the best friends you will ever make. There is plenty of time throughout the week for socialising in the afternoon and evening. Group activities include sports, cookie-decorating, a Ceilidh social night, dance and movement workshops, quizzes, a paper plane competition, a Cabaret night and much more!

Can I still apply if I haven't sat any music exams?

Yes! The ABRSM Grade 4 is a guideline only. We don't need to see any certificates, but we do need you to give us an idea of your playing standard by telling us the pieces you are working on, and any ensemble experience you may have. It's totally fine if you don't have any ensemble experience – that's what we're here to provide!

Can we play music other than the set pieces of music?

Yes! At Chetham's, you are surrounded by like-minded musicians who are as passionate about music as you. Throughout the week, you can practice your solo pieces or group up with your friends and play any music you like. There's even a chance to showcase what you've been working on at the Cabaret! One year, the horn section performed an arrangement of 'Hogwarts March', which was much enjoyed by everyone!

Can I apply to play more than one instrument?

No. Each student must choose one main instrument to study for the week. This is because we will need to tailor each course and make sure each group has enough for each class.

What music do I need to prepare before the course begins?

Orchestral students will receive their music about six weeks in advance. This will form the repertoire you'll perform as part of the final concert programme.

Piano students are asked to bring four pieces they're currently working on for their 1-2-1 lessons. Please choose pieces that are at different stages of readiness, for example:

- One piece that you've just started to learn
- One piece that you're currently working on
- One piece that you're ready to perform
- One piece that you've performed previously

We'll ask you to let us know which pieces you're bringing closer to the start of the course. As well as your 1-2-1 lessons, you'll also have duet lessons with another student. We'll send you your duet music about six weeks in advance.

Singing and performance students are asked to bring four pieces they're currently working on for their 1-2-1 lessons, as well as letting us know all the repertoire you have learnt or performed in the last 12 months. For your chosen pieces, please ensure that:

- Three pieces are with piano accompaniment
- One piece is unaccompanied
- At least two of your four pieces are from the classical genre

We'll ask you to let us know which pieces you're bringing closer to the start of the course.

Jazz and Improvisation students will be provided with details on what you need to prepare closer to the start of the course.

Frequently Asked Questions

All students are expected to have looked at their own music and parts, and to have a basic understanding of what their music involves. We don't expect any student to be note-perfect, and we don't want you to worry if you're finding a specific section difficult. It's likely that you're not alone in finding specific sections difficult and all our tutors are on hand to advise and help throughout the week. If you have any questions regarding your music, please get in touch with us and we'll be more than happy to help.

When will we be expected to arrive at the start of the course?

The course starts on Monday 9 August 2027. We will allocate specific timeslots in the afternoon from 2pm-4pm for when you can arrive. This is to help with registration queues so you can settle into your boarding houses comfortably.

When will we be expected to leave at the end of the course?

The course ends on Sunday 15 August 2027. There will be a picnic lunch and the final concerts from 12pm onwards, to showcase the fabulous music all the students have been working on. Students will finish the course and leave Chetham's at approximately 6pm.

What is the Closing Date for applications?

The closing date for applications is Sunday 1st August 2027 at 11.59pm. However, if you play an instrument that is less common, e.g. oboe, bassoon, etc., then please get in touch after this date as we may still have spaces available.

When will I find out about my application?

We will let you know the results of your application within two weeks. At that point, we will send you another form to finalise personal information and you have the option to request further information on financial assistance. Following this, you can choose to pay for the course (payment links will be provided) or apply for financial assistance.

Is there financial assistance available?

We can provide a select number of fully funded places for students whose families are in receipt of Universal Credit (or equivalent), free school meals or have a household income of less than £30,000pa. Evidence of the criteria will be required in order to apply for a funded place. A panel will award the fully funded places on a first come, first served basis so we recommend submitting an application as early as possible.

If you are not in receipt of Universal Credit, free school meals or income under £30k, we still may be able to award part funding if you have other circumstances that financially limit your access to music. These could be circumstances such as your child being a young carer, from a single parent family, or having additional needs.

You can also view our guide to External Grants and Bursaries that you can apply to directly.
